Epistles from the Pastor

We are continuing our sermon series on Hebrews scripture. The books in the Old Testament section of the Christian Bible are translations of the Hebrew Scriptures and are still used by the Jewish people in their worship services today. These books were written by many different authors over a period of hundreds of years. It can be said that the Old Testament developed in stages and its books were collected in groups. Before the process of collecting books and putting them in some kind of order took place, individual manuscripts were made and hand-copied and passed among groups.

If you have missed any sermons, you can hear them on line on our website www.trymychurch.com under the "Past Sermons" link in the menu bar. I have learned a great deal in preparing messages for Sunday.

As we move into the Lenten and Easter season, we will continue in Hebrews. I will try to continue to relate our lives today to the words and actions in the scriptures. I am fascinated by the enormous problems that Jesus encountered and dealt with and I am encouraged in my own life.

Peace, Pax, Pace
